EASTERN NEWS.

[BY TELEGRAPH TO THE OREGONIAN.]

Disastrous Fire

BOSTON, Nov. 29.—A rubber shoe factory at Malden and all adjoining buildings was burned this morning. Loss probably $1,000,000; insurance [illegible]. Boston, Nov. 29.—The burning of the Boston Rubber Shoe Co.'s factories was more disastrous in its result than was at first supposed. All the immense brick buildings, with the exception of one wing, are in ruins. The loss is placed at $[illegible] and the insurance at $158,000. Eight hundred [illegible] players are thrown out of work. The fire is supposed to have started from the careless use of a gas jet by one of the female employes. A later estimate of the loss by the burning factory of the Boston Rubber Shoe Co. at Malden [illegible] places the amount at $650,000.

WASHINGTON CITY.

[illegible] of Indian Affairs.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 28.—The Commissioner of Indian Affairs, in his annual report, says the reports of Indian supplies by [illegible] convey unmistakable evidence of a year of advance in the civilization of Indians. The testimony is almost uniform that [illegible] only entirely practicable but fair[illegible]. Forty two thousand six hundred [illegible] Indians are self supporting. Their [illegible] over 2,000,000 bushels potatoes, [illegible] 000 bushels, fields under cultivation, 328,000 acres, a larger area by 7,000 acres than ever before. They report nearly 200,000 [illegible]. Nearly 10,000 more Indians live in houses than five years ago. The Commissioner expresses the opinion that a general Indian war will never occur in the United States. In reference to the Black Hills he recommends that legislation be sought from Congress [illegible] the equivalent for the [illegible] in Dakota, the equivalent to be offered the [illegible] wards of the government for the Black Hills, to be found by estimating what 800 square miles of gold fields are worth to the United States and what 400 square miles of timber [illegible] lands are worth to them. He [illegible] the need of the Indian territory is a government simple in form and suggests a government like [illegible] of the U. S. northwest of the Ohio river previous to the organization of [illegible] would be best for the territory. [illegible] recommends the matter be brought before [illegible] and opposes the transfer of the [illegible] to the war department, but recommends [illegible] inspection and transportation [illegible] for subsistence be done by [illegible]. He makes note in the highest terms [illegible] by different religious bodies of the [illegible] and earnestly hopes that Congress will [illegible] the difficulties which heretofore have been [illegible] in procuring the enactment of laws and necessary appropriations for the training and education of Indians. None but the best men should be appointed agents, and expresses the hope that [illegible] will still be inclined to call on religious bodies of the country to name the men. It is not expected the deficiency this year will rise over $300,000. The cost of maintaining all Indians [illegible] the wilder tribes, will steadily decrease from this time. As they cease to be a burden [illegible] appreciable [illegible] additional expenses will be required in bringing the wilder tribes into the [illegible] of civilization as will make [illegible] supplies for three or four years to come [illegible] those of the last three years and perhaps greater. The Commissioner speaks as follows [illegible] the Mission Indians of Southern California: In my judgment the best method of meeting the [illegible] condition of those Indians will be to secure the [illegible] by withdrawal from sale all public lands on which they are now living under directions from this office. Surveys to be employed and a surveyor to indicate such boundaries as will enable the President to issue an executive order making a [illegible] to the Mission. This course will provide for [illegible] of the Indians [illegible] the fact that very many [illegible] of the desirable land in that section of country have been bought for and are covered by Mexican land grants or claims in the United States [illegible]. For the remainder it will be necessary to purchase small tracts of land at different points where Indians may locate permanent homes and where they will be in the vicinity of the planters and ranchmen, who will give them profitable work as laborers. For the purchase of these tracts and improvements which may be found within [illegible] is desirable for a small reservation an appropriation of [illegible] less than $10,000 will be required. I respectfully suggest that the attention of Congress be again called to the importance of this subject.

Fernando Wood Growing Modest

WASHINGTON, Nov. 29.—Fernando Wood declines the further use of his name as a candidate for Speaker of the next House of Representatives. He says he is not a candidate and will [illegible] party [illegible] most weighty [illegible] Mr. Wood makes a statement [illegible] among the remaining candidates.

Retirement of Legal Tenders

WASHINGTON, Nov. 29.—The Secretary of the Treasury to-day directed the retirement of $[illegible] of outstanding legal tenders, that amount being 8 per cent of the National Bank circulation issued during the month.

Union Pacific Railroad Decision

The Supreme Court to-day sustained the position of the Union Pacific Railroad Co., affirming the decision of the Court of Claims, namely that the company has the right to retain one half of its earnings on account of transportation of Government [illegible] delivered [illegible] the opinion of the court [illegible] the road is a great national necessity and the Government [illegible] fully secured in the payment of principal and interest in bonds.

Declines the Commissionership.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 29.—M. E. S. Fobey of Boston, informed Secretary Chandler this afternoon that he is obliged to decline the position of Commissioner of Indian affairs, tendered him by the President.

Superintendent Hoag not Removed

The Commissioner of Indian affairs authorizes Wm. Nicholson, general agent of the associated committee of friends in Indian affairs to say that Superintendent Hoag has not been removed; that his removal has not been contemplated and that his only connection with Pottawattomie matters is, that as an officer of the government he is diligently prosecuting those who have defrauded the Indians. Friend Hoag desires to retire from his present position whenever the board shall think proper to designate his successor. Secretary Chandler has invited Commissioner Smith to remain in the department as his confidential clerk in immediate charge of business coming up to the Secretary from the bureau.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 29.—There will be no sales of treasury gold ordered for December, the currency balance being large. The Secretary of the Treasury says sales are ordered only to replenish.

Secretary of Navy Fitting out Ironclads.

CHICAGO, Nov. 29.—A Washington special says the Secretary of the Navy still continues his mysterious operations. The Nantucket, the last of the ironclads that is finished and available, was ordered into commission. The complete list of available ironclads will now be ready for the most efficient service in a few days. It is said orders have been sent to Lisbon directing the entire Mediterranean squadron to return home. The entire torpedo corps is also actively engaged in preparing torpedoes. The operations are conducted with the strictest secrecy. Orders have been issued in the navy department to permit no information of the movements of the ironclads to be made public. All those vessels that are on the Atlantic Coast north of New Orleans have been ordered to rendezvous at Norfolk.

Chief Justice of Arizona to be Removed

WASHINGTON, Nov. 29.—It is said upon apparently good authority that President Grant has determined to remove E. Dunne, Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of Arizona Territory, on account of the position which he has assumed in public speeches on the School Fund question. He is an ardent Catholic and has indicated his desire that his co-religionists shall have a share of the common school fund set apart for their special control. This places him in opposition to the President's Iowa speech on the school question.

A Zephyr on Mount Washington

The signal officer reports a wind with a velocity of 156 miles per hour on Mount Washington this afternoon. This is the highest velocity recorded at that station since its establishment. The temperature was 24 degrees below zero.

Suits to Recover Corruption Money.

In February last, the Pacific Mail Steamship Co. entered suits against the following persons to recover certain sums of money alleged to have been paid them by R. B. Irwin to secure their aid in procuring Congressional subsidies: Charles Abert, $7,000; J. G. Bennett, 10,000; F. H. Cornick, $5,000; A. B. Cornine, $5,000; H. G. Faut, $12,000; J. H. Helsey, $11,000; Don Piatt, $5,000; W. B. Shaw, $15,000, and John Boyd, $4,000. The plaintiff's attorneys have discontinued the cases against [illegible] and it is understood that the same course will be taken as to the other cases.

Postage to Japan Reduced.

The P. O. Department to-day issued a circular to postmasters informing them and the public that on and after January 1, 1876, the single rate of letter postage between the United States and Japan by direct service via San Francisco, will be reduced from 15 cents to 12 cents per half ounce or fraction thereof, prepayment obligatory.

BY ATLANTIC CABLE.

Negotiations with Spain Favorable.

MADRID, Nov. 29.—It has been ascertained from official sources that negotiations between Spain and the United States are proceeding favorably. Rumors spread by newspapers that difficulties have arisen are absolutely incorrect. The relations between the countries may be regarded as excellent.

A Question of Courtesy.

7 A. M.—A special to the Daily Telegraph from Madrid says Mr. Laird, the minister, while recently traversing Bilboa refused to receive a visit from General Burriel, the butcher of Santiago de Cuba, who is captain general of the province. It is reported that the Spanish minister of state has remonstrated with Mr. Laird for his action in this matter.

Secession Feeling in Savoy.

NEW YORK, Nov. 29.—A dispatch from Paris says a rumor is prevalent to the effect that there is a move on foot among the people of Savoy having for its object the separation from France and reannexation to Italy.

Spain's Concession to the United States.

LONDON, Nov. 29.—A special to the Daily Telegraph from Paris states that in the Spanish reply to the Washington government nothing is conceded to the United States except that the accused may invoke the aid of counsel before a court martial in Cuba. Telegrams from Madrid to the same paper say, so far as can be learned Spain promises reform in the matter of confiscation of property, but declines to adhere to the treaty of 1795.

Hard Times in Paris

This city has come to see very hard times. Not only are the poor affected but the fashionable world also. Worthman, the milliner, has lost very heavily by pressure upon his business by the stringent times, and it is feared he is financially embarrassed to a great extent. If gossip is to be trusted he has lost mainly through the failure of fashionable Americans.

An Order Forbidding Extravagances in Female Theatrical Costumes

Sultzan, the intendant of the court has issued a circular to theaters in Berlin addressed to female artists forbidding them any longer to indulge in extravagances of dress. The German critics have always abused Paris taste for appealing to dress and fashion instead of pure art. Now the pressure has become so great that the German critics have [illegible] the Berlin government to assist them with an order.

General Washburn of Minnesota has arrived in Paris.

The Malayan War.

LONDON, Nov. 29.—A dispatch from Rangoon says large reinforcements of British troops from Hong Kong have arrived at Perak. Governor Jervois issued a pacific proclamation and hostilities were suspended pending the answer of the native chiefs to the British demands and the arrival of reinforcements from India.

Spanish Affairs.

MADRID, Nov. 28.—The cabinet council at which the King was present, held yesterday, resolved that the decree convoking the Cortes be promulgated before the [illegible]. A change in the cabinet will also be made, as Canovas Del Castillo will reassume the presidency this week. [illegible] Mayor of Madrid becomes minister of foreign affairs. The King to-day conferred the order of the Golden Fleece on Castillo. The officers of the royal staff are ordered to be ready to accompany the King to the army of the north in December [illegible].

Review of the European Grain Markets

LONDON, Nov. 29.—The Mark Lane Express review of the grain markets for the past week says England has had a dragging trade with occasional decline, [illegible] the want of condition in samples. In Holland and Belgium former rates are maintained. In Germany there has been slight fluctuation. In France the quotations are generally unchanged though in some provincial markets there has been an advance [illegible] owing to small supplies. Algeria is suffering from severe drouth.

Bombardment of Sebastian

HENDAYE, Nov. 29.—The Carlists have commenced again a vigorous bombardment of Sebastian.

DeLesseps' Opinion of the Suez Purchase

LONDON, Nov. 29.—M. DeLesseps has issued a circular in which he says he regards England [illegible] the Khedive's shares [illegible] and in consequence there will be no change [illegible] the British government of its former hostility to the interests of the shareholders of the canal.

A Russian Rebellion.

LONDON, Nov. 30—6 A. M.—A special from Vienna reports that no reassuring news from Khokand was received at St. Petersburg yesterday. It is feared that the majority of smaller Russian garrisons have already been massacred and that Khokand is surrounded by natives.

The English Troubles in Asia

A dispatch from Penang says it is not expected that British troops will meet with any serious resistance at Perak. A telegram from Shanghai says the British Inquiry commission met a man who warned them that a large force was assembled at Yunnan and resistance to the investigation into the murder of Mr. Margary might be expected.

The Finances of the Khedive

LONDON, Nov. 30.—Right Hon. Stephen Cave, Paymaster General, will go to Egypt to inquire into the financial condition of the Khedive's government.

FUNERAL OF THE VICE PRESIDENT.

Crowds of Visitors View the Remains—Funeral Ceremonies

BOSTON, Nov. 29.—Vast numbers of people visited Doric Hall this morning to view the remains of the Vice President while great crowds gathered in the vicinity of the State House making it difficult for those specially invited to the funeral to enter the hall of the House of Representatives where the services were to be held.

Soon after 11 o'clock the doors of the Hall were closed and at 11:30 the coffin was carried to the hall of the House of Representatives and placed in the catafalque. The Hall was richly draped, and numerous floral tributes were conspicuous. Senator Boutwell, Frederick Douglass, Carl Schurz, Gen. Banks, Governor elect Rice and others were seated at the right of the catafalque. Gov. Gaston, the Governor of Connecticut, and staff, the Board of Aldermen and the Common Council were in front of the coffin. Governors of other States, Ministers and ex Ministers, Members of Congress, Judges of the Federal and State Courts, the Mayor of Boston, Officers of the Army and the Navy, Fire and Civic Officers, Members of the State Legislature and others were in the main body of the Hall. The remaining seats were quickly filled by thousands eagerly seeking admittance. At 12:20 every seat was taken and every inch of standing space occupied.

The clergymen having taken their places, services were begun by singing the hymn, "I heard a voice saying unto me," etc. Rev. Dr. Miner offered prayer. Selections of Scripture were read and Rev. J. M. Jennings preached the sermon. At the conclusion of the address the audience united with the choir in singing the hymn, "Nearer my God to Thee." Prayer by the Venerable Rev. P. H. Neal, D. D., followed. The choir then sang the hymn, "Unveil thy bosom faithful tomb," after which, the benediction by Rev. Phillips Brooks, D. D., closed the services in the hall of representatives. The casket was borne out by eight police men, preceded by pall bearers who were: Ex Governors of Massachusetts, Wm. B. Washburne, Emery Washburne, Gardner Banks, Boutwell, Bullock, Claflin, Gov. elect Rice, Hon. Carl Schurz, senator Kelly of Oregon, and Frederick Douglass. The casket, preceded by pall bearers and followed by a detachment of marines and nine officers of the Fifth Maryland Regiment was carried down the main steps and placed on the funeral car which was an open catafalque heavily draped with black and white entwined with American flags. The car was drawn by eight black horses caparisoned with black and with heavy black plumes. At 2:30 P. M. the procession started on its way to Cottage Farm Station down Beacon street. At least 30,000 people crowded around and about the State House and Beacon Hill as the procession moved off. The route of the procession, down Beacon street and Brighton avenue was one uninterrupted contest with the elements manifested in the raging gale of [illegible] was extremely bitter causing much suffering among the troops. Nearly 5,000 soldiers were in line besides a large number of civilians. About fifty carriages containing distinguished guests brought up the rear. The division of civilians owing to the cold, was much smaller than had been anticipated. The escort of militia was one of the finest ever seen in Boston. Thousands of people filled Beacon and adjacent streets, and when the column commenced to move it was with considerable difficulty that a passage was cleared. At Charles street the carriages formed in double line and the procession was then at least a mile and a half in length. The street crossing next below Cottage Farm station was selected for the train that was to convey the body to Natick. A cold biting wind was prevalent at times, so as to retard somewhat the marching of the troops and yet the multitude of spectators patiently stood their ground. When the procession reached the train the casket was quickly conveyed from the hearse to the train down through the long lines of soldiers and civilians who stood with heads uncovered. A band meanwhile playing a dirge. Immediately upon the disposition of the casket in the car provided for its reception the governor, his staff and council, pall bearers and others together with the independent corps of cadets, the marines and officers of the fifth Maryland regiment were assigned seats in the train which immediately moved away from the city toward Natick passing many stations where crowds of people had collected to pay tribute to the illustrious dead and arriving at Natick shortly after 4 o'clock. A great crowd of townspeople thronged the squares and all approaches to the depot. The Grand Army Post of the town was drawn up in hollow square and immediately upon the arrival of the train the casket was conveyed to the hearse, and the line of march was begun for the public hall, church bells meanwhile tolling. The order of procession was as follows: Brown's brigade band, independent corps cadets, hearse with U. S. marines as body guard, officers of the fifth Maryland regiment, Gov. Gaston and staff, executive council, pall bearers of ex governors of the State. Nearly every building in the village was decorated with an elaborate display of mourning. The sidewalks in the neighborhood of the public square were thronged with people attracted from all the country about to view the solemn pageant. Reaching Clark's block the casket was conveyed to the large hall in the upper part of the building and placed upon a catafalque. Here the remains were delivered to the custody of the town selectmen by Gov. Gaston and were subsequently given into the charge of the G. A. R. post, who with U. S. marines will remain as guard until the burial on Wednesday. The decorations in the hall are very elegant. The concluding services of the day, amid Mr. Wilson's time honored associates, were especially solemn and impressive, deeply affecting the towns people who had assembled to pay their last heartfelt tribute of respect to their departed fellow citizen.

This will do for the Herald. But out of the Democratic list the Republicans will as surely have between forty and fifty electoral votes as the day of election comes.—Washington Chronicle.

A fracas occurred between some Indians at Fairchild's ranch on Butte creek, Jackson county, a few days ago in which one of them got a dose of six lead pellets from a pistol in the hands of another one. It appears an Indian named Stephen A. Douglas, who was given to John Fairchild when about 5 years old and raised by him, got into a fight with another Indian whose name we did not learn, and after trying it awhile with their fists and Stephen A. Douglas getting the worst of it he went off and got his pistol and wound up the argument by putting six balls into his opponent. A half breed Indian kept the other Indians off with his pistol while Stephen A. did his little piece of target shooting. At last accounts the Indian shot was not dead, though it was expected he soon would be.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 29.—Edward Sheridan, the boy convicted of killing Thomas Crowley, was sentenced to-day by Judge Morrison to six years imprisonment in the State penitentiary.

The Lost Sunshine.

In the matter of the schooner Sunshine, which came ashore bottom up at the mouth of the Columbia river, it will probably never be known how many were lost with her but the most recent information goes to show that she had probably twelve or fifteen passengers besides a crew of ten. The officers were Captain, George Bennett; first mate, John Thompson; second mate, Joseph Johnson. The names of the remaining persons are unknown.

Man-of-War Lost.

Wants a Slice of a Bonanza.

The case of George W. Kinney against the Consolidated Virginia mine came up in the U. S. circuit court this morning. The action is for 12½ feet of the Con. Virginia mine claimed by Kinney on account of an error in the conveyance made by him to the company of ground in his possession previous to the discovery of the bonanza, by which he conveyed fifteen feet while intending to deed only 2½.

SPAIN.

THE REIGN OF FIRE AND SWORD

A correspondent of the London Times, under date of Santander, Oct. 15, writes as follows: "It is impossible for any one not on the spot to realize the wanton devastation of property and barbarity to persons with which the civil war is being carried on by the combatants in the Basque provinces and Navarre. Many an English tourist who has entered Spain by Irun, en route to Sebastian must remember the fair country, sprinkled with farm houses, orchards, maize fields and groves in gentle acclivities which spread between these two places. It is now almost a wilderness of trampled crops, trees destroyed, and homesteads burnt. The same picture of desolation presents itself in Navarre except that in place of orchards the vineyards are cut down with hatchets by the government troops. With this material ruin, the savage spirit of the war becomes more intense, and, though neither party publicly admits the act, scarcely any quarter is given on either side. The reprisals of Gen. Trillo go too far and are cruelly unjust, because the places he has directed to be destroyed are open towns, or rather villages, not occupied militarily by the enemy, whereas Hernani, Guetaria, and San Sebastian, which are being cannonaded by the Carlists, play the part of fortresses, and are therefore liable to be fired upon. The peaceful places thus doomed by the Alfonsine chief also contains the houses, shops, stores and furniture belonging to numbers of liberals. Supporters of the government, who obliged to fly or expelled their houses by the Carlists will think their devotion to it ill requited by the wanton destruction of their property. The same remark applies to the bombardment of the fishing villages along the Biscayan coast by the iron clad Victoria. I learn from a trustworthy quarter that notwithstanding the efforts of the minister of war in Madrid it is becoming doubtful whether the intended autumn campaign will be undertaken. The pacification of Catalonia, or, at least the reduction of the insurrection to insignificant dimensions was the basis upon which the plan had been formed. This contingency is not being realized so completely as was expected after the flight of Dorregaray's forces before Gen. Jovellar's numerous army. They are returning in small parties through the mountain passes of upper Catalonia and Castelles whom Don Carlos has appointed captain general of that province in the room of Saballs, disgraced, is reorganizing the fugitives with a view to creating a diversion in favor of Navarre and the Basque provinces where the intention of the government to suppress the fueros of the latter and devastate both has created a bad impression and strengthened the Carlist party."

THE POPULATION OF CHINA.

The subject of the population of China is the riddle of the Sphinx, ever guessed at, but never solved. And if it were solved no one would ever know it, because there can be no verification. In connection with our first knowledge of China, we are taught that its population is immense. Its millions teem. The delusion of one or two generations ago that Jeddo and Pekin are the world's great centers of population, is scarcely yet dispelled. Many of the cities of the thirteen provinces, especially in the South, are undoubtedly Chinese cities are presumptively the same. He has learned in his geography or read in his encyclopedia that the population of Canton is 500,000, and that of Pekin from 1,500,000 to 2,000,000. These round numbers are generally accepted without question and on this scale small cities are gauged. Thus we meet the most confident estimates of population, formed on scanty data or no data at all by every latest traveler who has a supreme right at the last guess at the case. The difference between the high scale and the low scale of estimating Chinese cities is a difference of nearly one half. There are those who cling to the old tradition that the population of Pekin is two millions and there are others who consider seven hundred thousand a liberal estimate. Little or no dependence is to be placed on the estimates of transient travelers. Even long residents hesitate to express a decided opinion, for experience has taught them that such conjectures are very often misleading. It is as idle to inquire the number of families in a large city of intelligent natives as it would be to ask an intelligent native the death rate of Liverpool. There is no doubt a death rate and somewhere it is recorded. But it is not the business of any but physicians and coroners to know what it is unless it may have been published in the morning paper. But the Chinese have no morning papers nor other paper. At certain yamens no doubt some approximate statistics are on file but such things are utterly foreign to the thought of ordinary Chinese. In small villages the number of families is known to all, in large cities it is practically not known at all. It would be wrong to disturb the world's faith in the proposition that China contains 400,000,000 inhabitants, a proportion now generally accepted in spite of De Quincey's scepticism. But let this multitude of human beings be apportioned in a fair and equitable manner among the smaller towns and villages and not thrust by hundreds of thousands upon half empty walled towns where they will find no visible means of support. If these remarks should lead the casual reader to inquire the population of Taiyuan fu he is informed that according to the doctrine of the relativity of human knowledge if Pekin still keeps her 2,000,000, as in the geographies, then the capital of Shansi has 500,000. But if Pekin is reduced to [illegible],000 then does Taiyuan fu drop to 100,000, the same more or less. The average English man whose faith is said to be such that if a safety valve were only labeled "statistics" he would sit down on it with perfect confidence, is invited to take notice.

ABUSE OF THE PARDONING POWER.

SALEM, Nov. 27, 1875.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN:

In your paper of the 24th inst. appears a communication signed "Order" upon the subject of pardoning convicts or "another abuse of the pardoning power." "Order" starts out by saying it has long been the practice in our State to grant every convict at the expiration of his term a pardon restoring him to citizenship. This is the only correct idea he advances on the subject. A law was passed Oct. 21, 1864, making it the duty of the Governor to grant such pardon upon a certified statement from the Superintendent of the Penitentiary that said convict had by good conduct earned such pardon, and the law prescribes what shall be considered good conduct.

Since I have been superintendent no such recommendation has been made unless the convict had earned by meritorious conduct two thirds of the time required by law (Statutes p. 703), an act to encourage good behaviour of convicts confined in the State Penitentiary.

This law I think was taken from the Ohio Statutes and such a law is in full force in every prison in the United States, with two or three exceptions, and the officers in these, in their official reports say that unless such a law is passed for their benefit, the prisons as reformatory institutions will continue a failure. In three of those prisons, Massachusetts, South Carolina and Texas, the wardens have been killed by the convicts and mutiny often occurs. Just think, Mr. Editor, a moment, of a man shut up in the prison walls for life with nothing to hope for in the future and ask yourself what incentive he has for good behavior? If the merit system is abolished you will have to adopt that of corporal punishment, gagging, showering and what is known in prison as stocking and horsing.

I have always thought the object of confinement in prison two fold, not only to punish the offender for the crime committed, but also, if possible to reform him, that he may not commit a like crime upon his entrance again to the world. Any course likely to accomplish the latter I believe to be the best, and the Legislature acted very wisely in passing the law. It is our duty to reclaim, save, and make good citizens of the prisoners, not only for the cause of humanity, but for the interests of the public.

That mild treatment, reasonable indulgence and reward for good behavior are consistent with safety and discipline, is fully established, that a better feeling exists towards the State on the part of the prisoner, that a less disposition on their part to destroy property and a greater cheerfulness in the performance of labor exists, is very evident.

That convicts can be improved and reformed is too evident to admit of argument. Too many instances are on record in different parts of the State and this county, who have left [illegible] any grounds for question or debate. What there is in crime to render the criminal irreclaimable it would be difficult, perhaps to state. The cause of one crime is a want of education, another from a vicious education, one from cupidity and another from passion.

The same causes that produce dishonesty and fraud induce men to cheat and lie, the only difference being that one class is carried further by the same inducements than another. If one can be reclaimed the other can also.

In conclusion let me say, if restoring to citizenship these unfortunate men who are sent to the penitentiary should be abolished I fear the State could find no one who would govern and control our State criminals.

I have read your article on the Reform School, and your idea of having it connected with the penitentiary I think a good one. With a separate building and yard within the prison walls with good teachers, the school could be kept up with little additional expense. There are six little boys confined in this prison, the oldest being but 16, the youngest 10 years old. We are doing the best we can to teach these boys trades,—especially in the boot and shoe factory. What time they have to spare of evenings and Sundays, we are having them devote to learning to read and write, but are compelled at this time to depend on other convicts for teachers.

BAKER CITY ITEMS.

Under date of Nov. 23d a correspondent sends the following from Baker City:

A good newspaper would do a thriving business at this place.

The people generally are preparing for the holiday festivities.

Snow and slush, and ice, make it uncomfortable for pedestrians.

This county needs a bank; lots of money could be made by it in a legitimate way.

Workmen have commenced to cornice the new brick hotel—lack of funds has prevented its completion before this.

Placer miners have ceased work for the season, and are flocking into town for their winter quarters and "sports."

Joseph T. Baker, son of M. Baker, Esq., of La Grande, has commenced reading law in the office of Judge L. O. Sterns.

The streets are full of wagons loaded with apples, chickens, butter, grain and vegetables, brought all the way from Grand Ronde valley.

The Baker City [illegible] dividend ready for disbursement. The unfortunate creditor after over two months suspension gets two per cent, whatever that may be.

This ought to be a good community. The M. E. Church, Episcopal, Baptist, Catholic and Southern Methodist all have communicants and seem to be in a flourishing condition.

WHO SHALL BE SPEAKER?

An exchange thus discusses the speakership of the Congress that is to convene now in two weeks:

"The scramble for the speakership of the new House promises to be exceedingly interesting with more or less bearing upon the Presidential canvass. It is reported that an understanding has been reached by the respective friends of Tilden and Kerr, by which the latter is to receive the support of the former with a return of the compliment next year—a sort of 'you tickle me and I'll tickle you' arrangement. Fernando Wood is looking out for himself regardless of Tilden or his schemes. He has wealth and skill in politics and the fact that he proposed while Mayor of New York the secession of the city and took care that arms purchased for the rebels were not interfered with, will not injure him with the South. Sam Randall is the candidate of the inflationist people, but he will lose votes at the South if there is anything in the report that ex Governor Walker, of Virginia is to be a candidate. He is the author of the plan for the assumption of all State debts by the national Government, and this with the fact that he is for soft money, will have weight with the bad elements from the South. If there is a bargain between Kerr and Tilden, it will be quite likely to put an end to the project for giving Mr. K. the vote of the hard money Republicans.

OREGON

Hon. L. L. [illegible] started for Washington, D. C., last week.

Several new books will shortly be added to the Oregon City library.

The Oregon and California Stage Company changed to winter time on the 15th.

Williams creek, in Josephine, is still so high as to delay the mail several hours.

The Governor has issued an official proclamation of the result of the election in this State.

Capt. Griffin last week killed a bear near Jacksonville weighing about 400 pounds, near his farm.

The mail carrier reports all the bridges down between Jacksonville and Roseburg and two feet of snow on the mountains.

Considerable freight for Jacksonville is yet lying at Roseburg and several teams are having a rough time trying to get it through.

Prof. O. H. Hodges has secured the Academy building, at Columbia City, Oregon, where he intends to establish a permanent school.

An exchange says Thanksgiving Day didn't appear to rack the mind of anybody in Eugene City much. As usual the business houses were open, and the churches closed.

Messrs. Craig and Finn, mail carriers on the McKenzie and Ochoco route, experienced rough weather on their last trip. Mr. Craig was out 48 hours in the cold and wet without food or fire.

The miners of Josephine county expect a successful mining season, as water is plenty and liable to continue so. Those who are not already at work are busily engaged making preparations to get at mining as soon as possible.

The State Board of Public Instruction held a meeting at Salem Nov. 26th, at which time Mrs. John Gray, who has served a term of years as Matron of the Deaf Mute School, tendered her resignation of that position and Mrs. Frank Cooper was appointed to fill the vacancy.

One day last week a family by the name of Hall attempted to cross Williams creek, Josephine county, which at the time was considerably swollen by the late storms, and when near the middle the wagon upset, spilling the whole lot into the creek and drowning one of the children.

J. K. Bowes, agent of the English company owning the extensive placer mines at Galice creek, reports that digging on the ditch to convey water from the creek will soon be suspended until next summer, when it doubtless will be finished. Work by hydraulics will soon commence.

Mrs. Lottie Ream, chairman of the centennial committee for Lane county, calls upon the ladies of that county to aid in the work of securing for the county an honorable representation on that occasion. Relics of antiquity, works of art and fancy work of all kinds are earnestly requested. Pressed leaves, wild flowers, mosses, grasses, ferns, and all plants common or peculiar to our State are desired.

Article one of the by-laws of the National Grange, reads as follows: "The fourth day of December, the birthday of the Patrons of Husbandry, shall be celebrated as the anniversary of the Order." In accordance with the above, Monmouth Grange has voted to have a meeting at their hall commencing at 10 o'clock of said day of December, 1875. Dinner will be served in the hall, speeches made, and a good time generally is hoped for.

The Times says: "Jack Layton, who is extensively engaged in hydraulic mining on Williams creek, Josephine county, recently made a clean-up, from which he realized about $5,000. Although the last season was unusually mild and water light he has taken out considerable gold dust. The present indications are favorable for an abundance of water for some time to come, in which event Mr. Layton will unearth a large amount of the precious metal."

A letter from Grant county to the Mountaineer says: "The quartz interests of this county are assuming an enviable position among that class of mines on this continent. Indeed, with the developments already made on Middle Fork and Granite creek, assays of which are from $5 to $15,000 per ton, we certainly acknowledge no inferiority. And this is only the beginning; the upper crust of the richest belt of auriferous and silver bearing quartz on the western slope, or perhaps on the globe. There are two continuous belts of quartz passing through this country on either side of this valley, and running nearly parallel with each other. The first lies to the north and includes the Middle Fork and Granite mines; the other to the south, and passes near Canyon City and Marysville. Of this latter belt but little is yet known, although developments are under way, with flattering prospects ahead."

The Corvallis Gazette, speaking of subscriptions to the Willamette valley and Coast railroad, says the matter stands thus: Upon the new books there are $60,000; upon the old books, not resigned, about $25,000. This amount, as we understand it, is bona fide cash subscriptions, and positively available. With this assurance from Mr. Avery, who is deeply interested, and who has accomplished more in raising the $60,000 than any other person, it seems hardly necessary that a list of subscribers should be published although we will do so if thought best by the friends of the enterprise whenever the list is furnished us. Mr. Avery has been unable to canvass much for several weeks, in consequence of an affection of the throat. But he and others have gained some subscriptions since the above estimate was made. Nothing has been heard from the capitalists lately. We presume they are waiting to be notified that the $100,000 has been secured.

BAYARD TAYLOR AND THE SCHILLER BUND.

[From the Washington Chronicle.]

Those who were privileged to attend the delightful parlor reunions of the Schillerbund last winter at the houses of Senator Windom, Ex Senator Pomeroy, C. S. Noyes, A. S. Solomons, and other active and honorary members, and to listen to such intellectual feasts [illegible] tarian Church on the occasion of the anniversary of the birth day of its patron saint Schiller, need to be informed what is the character of the entertainments provided under its auspices. Encouraged by the success of these efforts and by the praise bestowed upon them they have ventured to undertake something still more ambitious this year, and have engaged, at a pretty high figure, the popular writer and lecturer, Bayard Taylor, who will, on the 10th proximo (the 116th anniversary of the poet's birth) give one of his charming word pictures of the Court of the Duchess Anna Amelia at Weimar, with Schiller facile princeps—as the central figure.

To appreciate Mr. Taylor's peculiar fitness for this work we have only to remember that having married the daughter of a German professor, he has made that country and the city of Weimar, we think, his home for a [illegible] portion of the last fifteen years, and [illegible] language and literature a life study; [illegible] the fruits of which we have already [illegible] admirable translation of [illegible] and we learn that he is soon to give us [illegible] in the shape of a life of that kingly writer. An item from the Palouse country tells us that winter has set in thereabouts. It commenced snowing on Friday last and fell to a depth of six inches. The people who have recently settled there from the States were greatly surprised to see so much rain as has fallen at this season of the year. The new grist mill built on the Palouse this fall is in full blast and doing good work.

Disastrous Fire.

BOSTON, Nov. 29.—A rubber shoe factory at M[illegible] den and all adjoining buildings was burned [illegible] morning. Loss probably $100,000 [illegible]

BOSTON, Nov. 29.—The burning of the Boston Rubber Shoe Co.'s factories was more disastrous in result than was at first supposed. All the [illegible] stone brick buildings with the exception of [illegible] wing are in ruins. The loss is placed at [illegible] and the insurance at $158,000. [illegible] hundred employes are thrown out of work. The fire is supposed to have started from the careless use of a gas jet by one of the female employes.

A later estimate of the loss by the burning [illegible] of the Boston Rubber Shoe [illegible] at Malden [illegible] day placed the amount at $600,000.

[illegible] Centennial Meeting.

NEW YORK, Nov. 29.—At a meeting of the Centennial Committee of New York Banks, Clearing House, Stock Exchange, National and Local Board of Fire Underwriters, held to-day, addresses were made by Gen. Hawley and Gov. Bigler, showing that one and a half million dollars were necessary to enable the commissioners to open the Centennial in May next. The meeting commended the matter to the people of New York and advised a memorial to Congress.

[illegible] Mining Casualty.

NEW YORK, 29.—A letter from Wilkesbarre states the most extensive and serious mining casualty ever known in Wyoming valley occurred at the Chauncey and Grand Tunnel mines, between Plymouth and Nanticoke, about two and one half miles south of the former place. About two weeks ago Mr. Roberts, one of the proprietors of the Chauncey mine, noticed that the r[illegible] of the [illegible] working in a most extraordinary manner and he was convinced that the mine was doomed to certain calamity. About 11 o'clock on the morning of the 10th inst. he gave orders for the men to leave the mine as soon as possible and to remove as much of the Company's property as could be taken out on the spur of the moment. The miners to the number of 12[illegible] [illegible] taking with them the implements [illegible], and about two hours later the mine caved in. The effects of the cave were terrific. Huge boulders were thrown out of the mouth of the tunnel [illegible] and air as if they had been pebbles and the shock of the crash was like an earthquake.

Report of the Commissioner of Indian Affairs.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 29.—The Commissioner of Indian Affairs, in his annual report, says the reports of Indian supplies by agents convey unmistakable evidence of a year of advance in the civilization of Indians. The testimony is almost uniform that [illegible] is not only entirely practicable but fair [illegible]. Forty two thousand six hundred [illegible] Indians are self supporting. Their [illegible] was over 2,000,000 bushels [illegible] 421,000 bushels [illegible] cultivation, 323,000 acres, a larger area by 7,000 acres than ever before. They report nearly 100,000 more [illegible] in 1871. Nearly 10,000 more Indian families live in houses than five years ago. The Commissioner expresses the opinion that [illegible] Indian war will never occur in the [illegible]. In reference to the Black Hills [illegible] thinks that legislation be sought from Congress [illegible] in Dakota, the equivalent to be [illegible] the [illegible] wards of the government [illegible] to be found by estimating [illegible] of gold fields are worth to the United States and what 400 square miles of timber, agricultural and grazing lands are worth to them. He [illegible] need of the Indian territory is a government [illegible] and suggests a government [illegible] of the Ohio river [illegible] would be best for the territory [illegible]. He recommends the [illegible] and opposes the transfer of the Indian bureau to the war department. [illegible] supplies for subsistence [illegible] the country and earnestly [illegible] the difficulties which heretofore [illegible] experienced in procuring the enactment of laws and the necessary appropriations for the training and education of Indians. None but the [illegible] should be appointed agents, and expresses the hope that government will still be inclined [illegible] [illegible] bodies of the country [illegible]. The cost of maintaining [illegible] the wilder tribes will steadily [illegible]. As they cease [illegible] be probable such additional expenses will be [illegible] in bringing the wilder tribes [illegible] the [illegible] of civilization as will make them [illegible] for three or four years [illegible]. The Commissioner speaks of the Mission Indians of Southern California, [illegible] judgment the best method of [illegible] by withdrawal from sale all public lands [illegible] agents to be employed and [illegible] to which boundaries as will [illegible] making [illegible] of the desirable land in that section [illegible] have been sought for and are covered by [illegible] and grants or entries in the United States [illegible]. FUNERAL OF THE VICE PRESIDENT.

Crowds of Visitors View the Remains—Funeral Ceremonies.

BOSTON, Nov. 29.—Vast numbers of people visited Doric Hall this morning to view the remains of the Vice President, while great crowds gathered in the vicinity of the State House, making it difficult for those specially invited to the funeral to enter the hall of the House of Representatives, where the services were to be held.

Soon after 11 o'clock the doors of the Hall were closed, and at 11:30 the coffin was carried to the hall of the House of Representatives and placed in the catafalque. The Hall was richly draped and numerous floral tributes were conspicuous. Senator Boutwell, Frederick Douglass, Carl Schurz, Gen. Banks, Governor elect Rice and others were seated at the right of the catafalque. Gov. Gaston, the Governor of Connecticut and staff, the Board of Aldermen, and the Common Council were in front of the coffin. Governors of other States, Ministers and ex-Ministers, Members of Congress, officials of the Federal and State Courts, the Mayor of Boston, Officers of the Army and the Navy, Fire and Civic officers, Members of the State Legislature and others were in the main body of the Hall. The remaining seats were quickly filled by thousands eagerly seeking admittance. At 12:20 every seat was taken and every inch of standing space [illegible].

The clergymen having taken their places, services were begun by singing the hymn "I Heard a Voice Saying unto Me," etc. Rev. Dr. Miner offered prayer. Selections of scripture were read, and Rev. J. M. Jennings preached the sermon. At the conclusion of the address the audience united with the choir in singing the hymn "Nearer my God to Thee." Prayer by the Venerable Rev. P. H. Neal, D. D., followed. The choir then sang the hymn, "Unveil thy bosom faithful tomb," after which, the benediction by Rev. Phillips Brooks, D. D., closed the services in the hall of representatives. The casket was borne out by eight police men, preceded by pall bearers, who were ex-Governors of Massachusetts, Wm. B. Washburne, Emory Washburn, Gardner, Banks, Boutwell, Bullock, Claflin, Gov. elect Rice, Hon. Carl Schurz, Senator Kelly of Oregon, and Frederick Douglass. The casket, preceded by pall bearers and followed by a detachment of marines and nine officers of the Fifth Maryland Regiment, was carried down the main steps and placed on the funeral car, which was an open catafalque heavily draped in black and white entwined with American flags. The car was drawn by eight black horses caparisoned with black and with heavy black plumes. At 2:30 P. M. the procession started on its way to Cottage Farm Station down Beacon street. At least 30,000 people crowded around and about the State House and Beacon Hill as the procession moved off. The route of the procession down Beacon street and Brighton avenue was one uninterrupted contest with the elements manifested in the raging gale of wind [illegible], causing much suffering among the troops. Nearly 5,000 soldiers were in line besides a large number of civilians. About fifty carriages containing distinguished guests brought up the rear. The division of civilians owing to the cold was much smaller than had been anticipated. The escort of militia was one of the finest ever seen in Boston. Thousands of people filled Beacon and adjacent streets, and when the column commenced to move, it was with considerable difficulty that a passage was cleared. At the [illegible] street the carriages formed in double line, and the procession was then at least a mile and a half in length. The street crossing next below Cottage Farm station was selected for the train that was to convey the body to Natick. A cold biting wind was prevalent at times so as to retard some what the marching of the troops, and yet the multitude of spectators patiently stood their ground. When the procession reached the train the casket was quickly conveyed from the hearse to the train down through the long lines of soldiers and civilians who stood with heads uncovered. A band meanwhile playing a dirge. Immediately upon the deposition of the casket in the car provided for its reception the governor, his staff and council, pall bearers and officers together with the independent corps of cadets, the marines and officers of the Fifth Maryland regiment were assigned seats in the train, which immediately moved away from the city toward Natick, passing many stations where crowds of people had collected to pay tribute to the illustrious dead and arriving at Natick shortly after [illegible].

[illegible] A great crowd of townspeople thronged the squares and all approaches to the depot. The Grand Army Post of the town was drawn up in hollow square and immediately upon the arrival of the train the casket was conveyed to the hearse and the line of march was begun for the public hall, church bells meanwhile tolling. The order of procession was as follows: Brown's Brigade Band in [illegible] independent corps of cadets, hearse with 12 marines as body guard, officers of the Fifth Maryland regiment, Gov. Gaston and staff, executive council, pall bearers of ex-governors of the State. Nearly every building in the village was decorated with an elaborate display of mourning. The sidewalks in the neighborhood of the public square were thronged with people attracted from all the country about to view the solemn pageant. Reaching Clark's block the casket was conveyed to the large hall in the upper part of the building and placed upon a catafalque. Here the remains were delivered to the custody of the town selectmen by Gov. Gaston and were subsequently given into the charge of the G. A. R. post, who with U. S. marines will remain as guard until the burial on Wednesday. The decorations in the hall are very elegant. The [illegible] services of the day, amidst Mr. Wilson's home and associates, were specially solemn and impressive, deeply affecting the towns people who had assembled to pay their last heartfelt tribute of respect to their departed fellow citizen.

SPAIN.

THE REIGN OF FIRE AND SWORD.

A correspondent of the London Times, under date of Santander, Oct. 15, writes as follows: "It is impossible for any one, not on the spot, to realize the wanton devastation of property and barbarity to persons with which the civil war is being carried on by the combatants in the Basque provinces and Navarre. Many an English tourist who has entered Spain by Irun, en route to Sebastian, must remember the fair country, sprinkled with farm houses, orchards, maize fields and groves in gentle acclivities which spread between these two places. It is now almost a wilderness of trampled crops, trees destroyed, and homesteads burnt. The same picture of desolation presents itself in Navarre, except that in place of orchards the vineyards are cut down with hatchets by the government troops. With this material ruin, the savage spirit of the war becomes more intense, and though neither party publicly admits the act, scarcely any quarter is given on either side. The reprisals of Gen. Trillo go too far and are cruelly unjust, because the places he has directed to be destroyed are open towns or rather villages, not occupied militarily by the enemy, whereas Hernani, Guetaria, and San Sebastian, which are being cannonaded by the Carlists, play the part of fortresses, and are therefore liable to be fired upon. The peaceful places thus doomed by the Alfonsine chief also contains the houses, shops, stores and furniture belonging to numbers of liberal supporters of the government, who, obliged to fly or expelled their houses by the Carlists will think their devotion to it ill requited by the wanton destruction of their property. The same remark applies to the bombardment of the fishing villages along the Biscayan coast by the iron-clad Victoria. I learn from a trustworthy quarter that notwithstanding the efforts of the minister of war in Madrid it is becoming doubtful whether the intended autumn campaign will be undertaken. The pacification of Catalonia, or, at least, the reduction of the insurrection to insignificant dimensions was the basis upon which the plan had been formed. This contingency is not being realized so completely as was expected after the flight of Dorregaray's forces before Gen. Jovellar's numerous army. They are returning in small parties through the mountain passes of upper Catalonia, and Castelles, whom Don Carlos has appointed captain general of that province in the room of Saballs, disgraced, is reorganizing the fugitives with a view to creating a diversion in favor of Navarre and the Basque provinces, where the intention of the government to suppress the fueros of the latter and devastate both has created a bad impression and strengthened the Carlist party."

THE POPULATION OF CHINA.

The subject of the population of China is the riddle of the Sphinx, ever guessed at, but never solved. And if it were solved no one would ever know it, because there can be no verification. In connection with our first knowledge of China, we are taught that its population is immense. Its millions seem [illegible]. The delusion of one or two generations ago that Je Ho and Pekin are the world's great centers of population, is scarcely yet dispelled. Many of the cities of the thirteen provinces, especially in the South, are undoubtedly Chinese cities are presumptively the same. He has learned in his geography or read in his encyclopedia that the population of Tientsin is [illegible],000 and that of [illegible] is [illegible] 000 to 2,000,000. These round numbers are generally accepted without question, and on this scale small cities are gauged. This we meet the most confident estimates of population, formed on scanty data or no data at all by every latest traveler who, like a supreme court, has the last guess at the case. The difference between the high scale and the low scale of estimating Chinese cities is a difference of many one half. There are those who cling to the old tradition that the population of Pekin is two millions, and there are others who consider seven hundred thousand a liberal estimate. Little or no dependence is to be placed on the estimates of transient travelers. Even long residents hesitate to express a decided opinion, for experience has taught them that such conjectures are very often misled. It is as idle to inquire the number of families in a large city of intelligent natives as it would be to ask an intelligent native the death rate of Liverpool. There is no doubt a death rate and somewhere it is recorded. Put it is in the line of duty that physicians and coroners to know what it is and it may have to be published in the morning paper. But the Chinese have no morning papers, nor other paper. A certain vanity no doubt [illegible] approximate statistics on file but such things are utterly foreign to the thought of ordinary Chinese. In small villages the number of families is known to all; in large cities it is practically not known at all. It would be wrong to disturb the world's faith in the proposition that China contains 400,000,000 inhabitants, a proportion now generally accepted in spite of De Quincey's scepticism. But let this multitude of human beings be apportioned in a fair and equitable manner among the smaller towns and villages and not thrust by hundreds of thousands upon half empty walled towns where they will find no visible means of support. If this remark should lead the casual reader to inquire the population of Taiyuan fu he is informed that, according to the director of the relativity of human knowledge, if Pekin still keeps her 2,000,000 as in the geographies, then the capital of Shansi has 500,000. But if Pekin is reduced to 700,000, then does Taiyuan fu drop to 100,000. In the same more or less. The average English man whose faith is said to be such that if a safety valve were only labeled "stationary" he would sit down on it with perfect confidence, is invited to take notice.

ABUSE OF THE PARDONING POWER.

SALEM, Nov. 27, 1875.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN:

In your paper of the [illegible]th inst. appears a communication signed "Order" [illegible] on the subject of pardoning convicts [illegible] another abuse of the pardoning power." "Order" starts out by saying it has long been the practice in our State to grant every convict at the expiration of his term a pardon restoring him to citizenship. This is the only correct idea he advances on the subject. A law was passed Oct. 21, 1864, making it the duty of the Governor to grant such pardon upon a certified statement from the Superintendent of the Penitentiary that said convict had by good conduct earned such pardon, and the law prescribes what shall be considered good conduct.

Since I have been superintendent no such recommendation has been made unless the convict had earned by meritorious conduct two thirds of the time required by law (Statutes, p. 703), an act to encourage good behavior of convicts confined in the State Penitentiary.

This law I think was taken from the Ohio Statutes, and such a law is in full force in every prison in the United States with two or three exceptions and the officers in these, in their official reports, say that unless such a law is passed for their benefit, the prisons as reformatory institutions will continue a failure. In three of those prisons, Massachusetts, South Carolina and Texas, the wardens have been killed by the convicts and mutiny often occurs. Just think, Mr. Editor, a moment, of a man shut up in the prison walls for life, with nothing to hope for in the future, and ask yourself what incentive he has for good behavior? If the merit system is abolished you will have to adopt that of corporeal punishment, gagging, showering and what is known in prison as stocking and horsing.

I have always thought the object of confinement in prison two fold, not only to punish the offender for the crime committed but also if possible to reform him that he may not commit a like crime upon his entrance again to the world. Any course likely to accomplish the latter I believe to be the best, and the Legislature acted very wisely in passing the law. It is our duty to reclaim, save, and make good citizens of the prisoners, not only for the cause of humanity but for the interests of the public.

That mild treatment, reasonable indulgence and reward for good behavior are consistent with safety and discipline, is fully established, that a better feeling exists towards the State on the part of the prisoner, that a less disposition on their part to destroy property, and a greater cheerfulness in the performance of labor exists, is very evident.

That convicts can be improved and reformed is too evident to admit of argument. Too many instances are on record in different parts of the State and this county, who have left [illegible] any grounds for question or debate. What there is in crime to render the criminal irreclaimable, it would be difficult, perhaps, to state. The cause of one crime is a want of education, another from a vicious education, one from cupidity and another from passion.

The same causes that produce dishonesty and fraud induce men to cheat and lie, the only difference being that one class is carried further by the same inducements than another. If one can be reclaimed the other can also.

In conclusion let me say, if restoring to citizenship these unfortunate men who are sent to the penitentiary should be abolished, I fear the State could find no one who could govern or control our State criminals.

I have read your article on the Reform School, and your idea of having it connected with the penitentiary I think a good one. With a separate building, and yard within the prison walls, with good teachers, the school could be kept up with little additional expense. There are six little boys confined in this prison, the oldest being but 16, the youngest 10 years old. We are doing the best we can to teach these boys trades—especially in the boot and shoe factory. What time they have to spare of evenings and Sundays, we are having them devote to learning to read and write, but are compelled at this time to depend on other convicts for teachers.

BAKER CITY ITEMS.

Under date of Nov. 23d, a correspondent sends the following from Baker City:

A good newspaper would do a thriving business at this place.

The people generally are preparing for the holiday festivities.

Snow and slush, and ice, make it uncomfortable for pedestrians.

This county needs a bank; lots of money could be made by it in a legitimate way.

Workmen have commenced to corner the new brick hotel—lack of funds has prevented its completion before this.

Placer miners have ceased work for the season and are flocking into town for their winter quarters and "sports."

Joseph P. Baker, son of M. Baker, Esq., of La Grande, has commenced reading law in the office of Judge L. O. Sterns.

The streets are full of wagons loaded with apples, chickens, butter, grain and vegetables, brought all the way from Grand Ronde valley [illegible] dead, ready for disbursement. The unfortunate creditor after over two months suspension gets two per cent. whatever that may be.

This ought to be a good community. The M. E. Church, Episcopal, Baptist, Catholic and Southern Methodist all have communicants and seem to be in a flourishing condition.

WHO SHALL BE SPEAKER?

An exchange thus discusses the speakership of the Congress that is to convene now in two weeks:

"The scramble for the speakership of the new House promises to be exceedingly interesting with more or less bearing upon the Presidential canvass. It is reported that an understanding has been reached by the respective friends of Tilden and Kerr, by which the latter is to receive the support of the former with a return of the compliment next year. [illegible] 'You tickle me and I'll tickle you' arrangement. Fernando Wood is looking [illegible] regardless of Tilden or his schemes. He has wealth and skill in politics, and the fact that he proposed while Mayor of New York the secession of the city and to [illegible] that arms purchased for the rebels would not interfered with will not injure him with the South. Sam Randall is the candidate of the inflationists [illegible] but he will lose votes at the South [illegible] that ex-Governor Walker, of Virginia, is to be a candidate. He is the author of the plan for the assumption of all State debts by the national Government, and this, with the fact that he is for soft money, will have weight with the bad elements from the South. If there is a bargain between Kerr and Tilden, it will be quite likely to put an end to the project for giving Mr. K. the vote of the hard money Republicans."

OREGON.

Hon. L. [illegible] has started for Washington, D. C., last week.

Several new books will shortly be added to the Oregon City library.

The Oregon and California Stage Company changed to winter time on the 24th.

Williams creek, in Josephine, is still so high as to delay the mail several hours.

The Governor has issued an official proclamation of the result of the election in this State.

Capt. Griffin last week killed a bear near Jacksonville weighing about 400 pounds near his farm.

The mail carrier reports all the bridges down between Jacksonville and Roseburg and [illegible] feet of snow on the mountains.

Considerable freight for Jacksonville is yet lying at Roseburg and several teams are having a rough time trying to get it through.

Prof. C. H. Hodges has secured the Academy building at Columbia City, Oregon, where he intends to establish a permanent school.

An exchange says Thanksgiving Day didn't appear to fluck the mind of anybody in Eugene City much. As usual the business houses were open and the churches closed.

Messrs. Craig and Flinn, mail carriers on the McKenzie and Ochoco route, experienced rough weather on their last trip. Mr. Craig was out 48 hours in the cold and wet without food or fire.

The miners of Josephine county expect a successful mining season, as water is plenty and liable to continue so. Those who are not already at work are busily engaged making preparations to get at mining as soon as possible.

The State Board of Public Instruction held a meeting at Salem Nov. 26th, at which time Mrs. John Gray, who has served a term of years as Matron of the Deaf Mute School, tendered her resignation of that position and Mrs. Frank Cooper was appointed to fill the vacancy.

One day last week a family by the name of Hull attempted to cross Williams creek, Josephine county, which at the time was considerably swollen by the late storms, and when near the middle the wagon upset, spilling the whole lot into the creek and drowning one of the children.

J. B. Bowes, agent of the English company owning the extensive placer mines at Galice creek, reports that digging on the ditch to convey water from the creek will soon be suspended until next summer, when it doubtless will be finished. Work by hydraulics will soon commence.

Mrs. Lottie Ream, chairman of the centennial committee for Lane county, calls upon the ladies of that county to aid in the work of securing for the county an honorable representation on that occasion. Relics of antiquity, works of art and fancy work of all kinds are earnestly requested. Pressed leaves, wild flowers, mosses, grasses, ferns and all plants common or peculiar to our State are desired.

Article one of the by laws of the National Grange reads as follows: "The fourth day of December, the birthday of the Patrons of Husbandry, shall be celebrated as the anniversary of the Order." In accordance with the above, Monmouth Grange has voted to have a meeting at their hall, commencing at 10 o'clock of said day of December, 1875. Dinner will be served in the hall, speeches made, and a good time generally is hoped for.

The Times says: "Jack Layton, who is extensively engaged in hydraulic mining on Williams creek, Josephine county, recently made a clean-up, from which he realized about $5,000. Although the last season was unusually mild and water light he has taken out considerable gold dust. The present indications are favorable for an abundance of water for some time to come, in which event Mr. Layton will unearth a large amount of the precious metal."

A letter from Grant county to the Mountaineer says: "The quartz interests of this county are assuming an enviable position among that class of mines on this continent. Indeed, with the developments already made on Middle Fork and Granite creek, assays of which are from $5 to $15,000 per ton, we certainly acknowledge no inferiority. And this is only the beginning, the upper crust of the richest belt of auriferous and silver bearing quartz on the western slope, or perhaps on the globe. There are two continuous belts of quartz passing through this country on either side of this valley, and running nearly parallel with each other. The first lies to the north and includes the Middle Fork and Granite mines, the other to the south, and passes near Canyon City and Marysville. Of this latter belt but little is yet known, although developments are under way with flattering prospects ahead."

The Corvallis Gazette, speaking of subscriptions to the Willamette valley and coast railroad, says the matter stands thus: "Upon the new books there are $60,000, upon the old books, not resigned, about $25,000. This amount, as we understand it, is bona fide cash subscriptions and positively available. With this assurance from Mr. Avery, who is deeply interested, and who has accomplished more in raising the $60,000 than any other person, it seems hardly necessary that a list of subscribers should be published, although we will do so if thought best by the friends of the enterprise whenever the list is furnished us. Mr. Avery has been unable to canvass much for several weeks in consequence of an affection of the throat, but he and others have gained some subscriptions since the above estimate was made. Nothing has been heard from the capitalists lately. We presume they are waiting to be notified that the $100,000 has been secured."

BAYARD TAYLOR AND THE SCHILLER BUND.

[From the Washington Chronicle.]

Those who were privileged to attend the delightful parlor reunions of the Schillerbund last winter at the houses of Senator Windom, Ex-Senator Pomeroy, C. S. Noyes, A. S. Solomons, and other active and honorary members, and to listen to such intellectual feasts [illegible] Church on the occasion of the anniversary of the birth day of its patron saint, Schiller, need to be informed what is the character of the entertainments provided under its auspices. Encouraged by the success of these efforts and by the praise bestowed upon them they have ventured to undertake something still more ambitious this year and have engaged at a pretty high figure the popular writer and lecturer, Bayard Taylor, who will on the 10th proximo (the 116th anniversary of the poet's birth) give one of his charming word pictures of the Court of the Duchess Anna Amelia at Weimar, with Schiller [illegible] as the central figure.

[illegible] appreciate Mr. Taylor's [illegible] for this work we have only to remember that having married the daughter of a German professor he has made that country [illegible] of Weimar, we think his knowledge [illegible] of the last [illegible] language and literature [illegible] the fruits of which we have already [illegible] and [illegible] translation [illegible] the shape of a life of that kingly writer [illegible] much that he has from its first [illegible] literature at Cornell University, where he annually delivers a course of [illegible] subject.

[illegible] has shipped nearly twenty [illegible] dried peaches [illegible] since the first of October.

THE TERRITORIES.

A good deep snow is said to have fallen at Colfax, W. T., on the 15th and 16th.

Mrs. McMillen, residing near [illegible], died very suddenly of heart disease on Saturday last.

Already, says the Salt Lake Herald, [illegible] judges have rendered four different orders [illegible] this contempt case and the end is not yet.

It is generally believed that the potato crop on Puget Sound will be damaged by the early rains and cold weather, as most of the farmers have not yet dug.

Three freight cars containing twenty nine mares, two stallions and two geldings from Ben Allen's stock farm at Lawrence, passed through Cheyenne for California on Thursday.

A West Denver painter does everything in the superlative degree. Even his signboard contains the following: "The Oldest and most tastiest Painting Institution in the Territory."

Judge Hollister, of Idaho, is making it hot for the polygamous outfit which has so long disgraced the southeastern portion of that Territory. It is said the law breakers cannot escape punishment.

An item from the Palouse country tells us that winter has set in thereabouts. It commenced snowing on Friday last and fell to the depth of six inches. The people who have recently settled there from the States are greatly surprised to see so much rain as has fallen at this season of the year. The new grist mill built on the Palouse this fall is in full blast and doing good work.

A gentleman writing of the wonders of Great Salt Lake says: "About fifteen years ago the Mormons cut the ears off and branded the face of one of their number caught in the act of robbing the dead with [illegible]. This man robs the dead and abandoned him on Church Island. His fate is unknown." The Tribune thinks if they would serve their priesthood in a similar manner for robbing the living, Church Island wouldn't hold the thieving crew.

A letter from Santa Fe tells about a cattle king of New Mexico. To the southeast of Santa Fe, near Fort Stanton, is the famous Chisum cattle ranche, containing about sixteen hundred sections of land, on which Mr. Chisum has at this time eighty thousand head of cattle. He claims that he can fill an order for forty thousand beeves sent him by telegraph from New York, on ten days' notice. Be this as it may, he is the cow king of New Mexico, to use a provincial phrase. He employs in all about one hundred "cow boys" and "cow punchers"—and in other words he employs mounted men to picket the ranch day and night, winter and summer, to see that the cattle do not stray off the pasture selected by him for his own use.

KLICKITAT ITEMS.

A friend at Klickitat, W. T., sends the following:

Klickitat Grange No. 83 having been notified that their lease was about to expire and the building was to be used for other purposes, removed their place of meeting from Klickitat to Johnson's hall, Goldendale.

Subsequent to the heavy rains considerable snow fell during November, though not enough to cover the grass, and stock are doing well.

At the last Commissioner's Court a bill of costs was presented from a Justice Court in one of the precincts, and the commissioners having good reason to believe that the justice was elected, the bill was laid over and another justice appointed, whereat the aforesaid Esquire files a protest that he has not ceased to be an inhabitant of his precinct, and shall continue to exercise the functions of his office. A conflict of authority and a case of 'Clonas.

Our member of the Legislature worked manfully for a small appropriation to help build a road up the Columbia river, which is now only a trail, though it is one half of mail route No. 44,142, and the only means of egress from the valley when there is snow on the mountains. A bill for relocating our county seat by vote at the next election failed, whereat the [illegible] (Rockland) grumble, while the [illegible] Goldendale chuckle [illegible].

Eggsactly how much a box of eggs must weigh to be eggs is the question with us.

TUESDAY MORNING NOV 30 1875

THE LAST DEFENSE

We have this morning a communication from Mr Wm H Watkinds Superintendent of the State penitentiary in defense of the practice of pardoning convicts just before the expiration of their terms and thus restoring them to the rights of citizenship We are glad Superintendent Watkinds has considered himself called upon to defend the Governor in this matter as the relations between the Superintendent and the Governor give this defense something of an authoritative character The same defense made in the Superintendent's communication has also been made in the Salem Mercury the Governor's organ so now it may be considered that the Governor has fully placed himself on record in this matter and it remains for us to show that his defense is not good in law or to retract what we have said upon this particular form of abuse of the pardoning power

Mr Watkinds says, there was a law passed Oct 21, 1864 "making it the duty of the Governor to grant such pardons upon a certified statement from the superintendent of the penitentiary that said convict had by good conduct earned such pardon and the law prescribes what shall be considered good conduct This is the gist of the defense The Mercury it is true remarks that this law was passed by a Republican Legislature but that fact is wholly impertinent and adds nothing to the case. We are not disposed to engage with Mr Watkinds in a discussion of the question whether the law referred to produces all the wonderful effects he attributes to it in turning felons into model citizens, but shall content ourselves with the remark that in our opinion the excessive modesty for which Superintendent Watkinds is distinguished has caused him to attribute many remarkable cures—to borrow a phrase from the patent medicine almanacs from which he seems to have borrowed the general style of his communication—to the Patent Pardon Process when in fact they are due alone to his own indefatigable efforts to elevate the moral character of those in his charge, and to the example of his daily walk and conversation

But the truth is, there is no such law as that upon which the Governor relies for his justification There was an act passed at the time referred to by Mr Watkinds which provided for the keeping by the Superintendent of a system of merit marks, for his being allowed for certain given number of these merit marks a remission of a given number of days of his term of service that the Superintendent shall certify this record of behavior to the Governor, who, "if in his opinion the facts as stated by the Superintendent warrant," may—not shall—"grant to the said convict a remission of so much of his sentence as he, the said convict, has earned by his obedience good behavior and industry" That is every word there is in the law relating to the Governor's duty or power in the premises Does that make it his duty to [illegible] certifies to have behaved himself well? Certainly not He may remit a specified part of the sentence, if he think the case a proper one for that exercise of clemency He is to exercise his judgment in each case and grant or refuse the remission as he deems proper

But suppose it be said may means must in this section as Mr Watkinds assumes there is still no such law as Watkinds cites He says the Governor is requested to pardon convicts on the credit of their merit record The law does not so read The law says not that he may pardon but may grant a remission of so much of the sentence as the convict has earned by his good conduct That is not a pardon The law specifically defines what the convict shall earn by good conduct and that is certain days off his term of imprisonment not restoration to the citizenship he has forfeited The Legislature seems to have been careful not to use language importing a pardon They said the Governor may remit certain days of the convict's imprisonment, but they said nothing more The Governor had the pardoning power already and it is not to be supposed the Legislature meant to do so foolish a thing as to confer it on him again and that in a limited and restricted form The evident meaning of the law, as well from the reason of the thing as from the obvious import of its words, is, that in addition to the pardoning power the Governor should have the power in certain specified cases and upon a certain prescribed showing to shorten the term of imprisonment for good conduct without granting a full pardon of the offense

Mr Watkinds says "if restoring to citizenship these unfortunate men who are sent to the Penitentiary should be one who could govern and control our State criminals" That sounds very well but we have an idea there is a good deal of rhetoric in it. We venture the assertion that it would not be at all difficult to find responsible men willing to accept the situation of Superintendent under the circumstances supposed as it was not difficult before the law in question was enacted and we scarcely believe we hazard anything in saying that a repeal of that law by the next Legislature would not cause the immediate resignation of Mr Watkinds himself A hundred to one he would revise his hastily expressed views and [illegible]

A [illegible] POSITION

It is telegraphed as one of the rumors [illegible] the Cuban scene that the [illegible] will meet with [illegible] prolonged and bitter opposition from leading Republicans if he attempts to precipitate the country into a war with Spain on account of the Cuban insurrection [illegible] news was hardly necessary The leading Republicans of the country with the exception of a few blatherskites whose leadership is attributable to the amount of noise they have made rather than the statesmanlike ability they have displayed, have always been opposed to any intermeddling by our government in Cuban affairs The only emergency that could be regarded by conservative and sensible Republicans as a sufficient reason why the United States government should allow itself to be drawn into this Cuban matter would be an attempt of some other of the great powers to wrest the island from Spain, an emergency of which there appears no present danger So long as Cuba remains under the dominion of Spain where it belongs of right, or, (if the patriot banditti should succeed in establishing the independence of the island) so long as it shall be an independent nationality our government will attend to its own interest by letting the whole matter severely alone If Cuba rich in natural resources and possessing a delicious climate, were a new and unpeopled country it would certainly be a very desirable addition to our already too extensive domain, or, if it were peopled by an intelligent and thrifty population of English or Teutonic blood, it would at least form a respectable State of the Union But the population, as at present constituted, cannot be considered as fit for self government And if unfit for that it must be set down as unfit to enter the American Union The Republic would gain nothing by the acquisition but additional disorders and causes of disagreement among our own people There is already enough of that—enough for our safety at home and for our reputation abroad Ignorance and turbulence of temper among the people of nearly a third of the geographical extent of the nation, have demonstrated within the last few years, the impolicy of introducing that leaven too freely into our political system It is quite safe, therefore for the collectors and inventors of news items about the national capital to announce in advance that any movement of the President toward interference in the Cuban quarrel will meet with "able, prolonged and bitter opposition at the hands of leading Republicans

Moody and Sankey complain that in America their services are not as highly appreciated as they were in England The fact is not a surprising one In England such services were new and novel and they attracted by reason of their novelty many who had no particular regard for religion Since the days of Wesley and Whitefield there have been in England few revival meetings or meetings such as in America are commonly called camp meetings while here they are held by hundreds every summer Like any other new thing in England the meetings of Moody and Sankey drew immense crowds Like any other ordinary and familiar thing in America, they attracted no very extensive notice Outside of the fact that Moody and Sankey had created a sensation in England and were themselves objects of curiosity, there is nothing in their meetings to which Americans have not been accustomed for years Hence the disappointment of Messrs Moody and Sankey and their failure to draw the crowds [illegible]

SAFES

VIRGINIA CITY

FIRE.

We have received the following Letters from our customers in Virginia City.

Virginia City, Nev., Oct. 29, 1875.

Hall's Safe and Lock Co., San Francisco.

Our Safe purchased of you some two years since, brought our papers out in good condition, and Lock Worked all right.

Will see your Agent in regard to a new Safe. Respectfully,

WEBB & MULLARD.

Office L. P. Brekler & Co., Stock Brokers, Virginia City, Nov. 1, 1875.

Hall's Safe and Lock Co,

Gentlemen—I had in my house during the late disastrous conflagration, on 26th ultimo, one of your Fire and Burglar Proof Safes (No. 21) in which were my private papers, silverware and diamonds, all of which came out in good condition. I had no difficulty in turning on the combination and opening both doors, without damage to them or Locks. The superiority of Hall's Safes for Fires and Burglars, is in my opinion, without a rival. Yours, truly,

P. F. BEARDSLEY.

Virginia City, Nev., Oct. 28, 1875.

Hall's Safe and Lock Co.

Gents:—It affords me pleasure to be able to write you that the Fire and Burglar Proof Safe (No. 26) we purchased of you some time since, has stood the late severe test in a very satisfactory manner.

We had in Safe, at the time of the fire, some $10,000 and over $500 in gold notes, all of which came out in perfect order, also all books, warrants, etc.

The Locks opened on the combinations without any trouble, and Safe appears uninjured.

Our County Clerk's Vaults also preserved contents all O. K.

JOE H. DOUGLASS,

Deputy Co. Treas.

Virginia City, Nev., Oct. 29, 1875

Hall Safe and Lock Co.

Gents:—I had one of your single door (No, 4) Fire Proof Safes during the disastrous fire of the 26th, and I was unable to get at it to open it until to-day, on account of the great heat and rubbish around it. It was in the second story of a three-story brick building, and was exposed to the heat OVER SEVENTY HOURS. On opening, I found my books all legible and my insurance policies as bright as when put in the Safe, and the Lock worked all right.

You will send me immediately another Safe, the same size, and I cheerfully recommend the Hall's Safe.

Very respectfully,

M. ASCHEIM.

Virginia City, Nev, Oct. 29, 1875.

Hall's Safe and Lock Co., San Francisco.

Gents:—I take pleasure in informing you that the Safe purchased of you about a year since preserved my books and papers.

I will want a larger Safe as soon as I get Located. Yours respectfully,

CITY.

COL JOHN M WILSON In a recent issue of the New York Herald we observe the following complimentary notice of Col Wilson who has been ordered to this city to relieve Gen Michler "At the close of the working season on Lake Ontario and not later than the 1st of December next Major Walter McFarland will, in addition to his present duties, relieve Major John M Wilson of the works in his charge on Lake Ontario and the St Lawrence river, and will proceed to Oswego N Y for that purpose On being relieved by Major McFarland Major Wilson will proceed to Portland Oregon where he will take station and relieve Major M N Michler of all the duties he is now charged with including those under the lighthouse board reporting by letter to the Honorable the Secretary of the Treasury for that service Major Michler after turning over his duties to Major Wilson will proceed to Philadelphia and await further orders" This was the first notice Col Wilson received of his assignment to a new duty and it produced the most profound regret throughout the city While it is understood that army officers are as unfixed as itinerant ministers it was hoped that Col Wilson would be permitted to remain here to complete the important government work which he has conducted with so much energy and economy in which he has taken so great interest and which has been sufficiently tested to prove it a model of permanence Were it possible to retain Colonel Wilson here, the whole community would rise up as one to effect it His personal characteristics, his faithfulness to his duty and his interest in our public affairs have given him a place in the public esteem that few men have been able to attain

STEAMER SAILED —The steamer Ajax sailed last evening for San Francisco, She carried away the following passengers Mrs Kooner and infant F. TIN WEDDING —Quite a large number of the friends of Rev. T. L Eliot and wife surprised that estimable couple at their residence Market and Fifth streets, last evening the occasion of the tenth anniversary of their wedding day, Those who had assembled at the residence of a member of the church of which Mr Eliot is pastor, brought a vast number of tin presents, worked in many shapes, which were carried to the worthy pastor's residence and deposited in various places in the parlors. What followed may be readily surmised The disagreeable weather had a tendency to deter several from attending but the number present and the display of gifts in tinware were sufficient to show that Mr Eliot and his lady are surrounded by a host of friends At a late hour the pleasures of the evening came to an end

SOCIAL CLUB ORGANIZED.—A social club has been recently organized in this city, composed of a number of young gentlemen The object of such organization is to give a series of social parties during the ball season The following gentlemen constitute the officers of the club: President, D. Goodsell; Secretary Ralph Welch, Treasurer, H C Breeden Business Committee, H. C. Breeden, J. Carr, E. D White and R. J Linden, Reception Committee Geo. Lamberson, C J Mulkey, H Talbot N L. Curry and Mr. Dobbinson, Invitation Committee, E. Carr, Geo. H. Durham and George Pierce. Turners' Hall has been selected by the club as the place for holding its parties Preparations are being made to give the first ball of the series about the 18th prox.

STEAMER YAKIMA —Under the superintendence of Mr. J. J. Holland, a force of men are employed in raising the steamer Yakima which was sunk week before last on the Upper Columbia The steamer at first was thought to be a total loss but Mr Holland is confident that the submerged craft can be raised and towed down to Celilo The hull it is thought cannot be repaired so as to enable the boat to be of future service to the company, but the machinery, boilers and whole upper works are still in excellent condition When the steamer reaches Celilo she will be hauled out on the ways and it is quite probable that a new hull will be built

A FOOLISH LEAP —Saturday afternoon while the express train was on its way to Albany, and crossing the trestlework beyond Pudding river the engineer observed a man walking some distance ahead. He accordingly "slowed up," to enable the person to reach the end of the trestle However, the man supposing his life was in danger, became suddenly panic stricken and leaped from the bridge to the ground, a distance of about 20 feet. He was severely injured by the shock and knocked senseless, in which condition he was conveyed to Aurora We are not apprised of his condition at present

OLD PIONEER GONE —Mr Caleb Richey departed this life Sunday Nov 28, at his home in Pleasant valley, at the advanced age of 66 years. Deceased came to this State many years ago, and is worthy to be classed among the early pioneers of Oregon In the year 1866 Mr Richy was one of the county commissioners of Multnomah, which position he held with entire satisfaction During his life Mr. Richey enjoyed the confidence and esteem of the community, and his death is mourned by a large circle of friends.

SEVERELY HURT —We learn that William Smith, a son of Mr B P Smith residing at Roseburg, who is attending the Bishop Scott Grammar School, at Portland, met with a severe accident a few days ago. He was performing some exploits in a swing in the gymnasium, and missing his hold he fell to the ground, breaking one arm in two places and dislocating the other At last accounts he had the dislocation reduced and the other arm set, and was doing as well as could be expected

CATHOLIC CHARITY FAIR.

Last evening the charity fair, given by the ladies of the Catholic church in aid of St. Vincent's Hospital, opened in the large rooms formerly occupied by E Milwain For some days the ladies have been industriously employed in fitting up the interior of the long building which extends through the block from Front to First streets Their labors have produced a marvelous effect in relieving the bare walls and transforming the whole interior of the building into a fairy like bower. Green boughs are tastefully arranged about the room dividing it into walks and imparting to the whole scene a picturesque effect, pleasant to the eye and gratifying to the cultivated taste A number of festoons made from fir boughs are hung at intervals about the large room and around the numerous tables which contribute in no small degree to the general aspect of the scene The room being narrow and quite long it was found necessary to arrange the various tables on which were displayed the endless—and nameless we almost said—on each side of the building Entering one door and passing along the hall, the visitors find the tables arranged at irregular distances first on the right side and then the left. The display of articles is quite liberal, and among those on exhibition we observed some of beautiful design and elegant workmanship

THE TABLES

The following ladies preside at the tables

No 1 Mrs Devaney and Mrs McNamara Among the principal articles we note "Life of Christ," a fine China set caster and silver pitcher, a large and splendid picture of Rev Father Fierens

No 2 Miss Gertrude Wagner, Miss Barbara Sohm, and Miss Susan Neppach. A fine steel engraving of the "Assumption" a silver pitcher two vases of exquisite wax flowers, are among the many articles displayed at this table

No 3 Mrs Carroll Mrs Cahalin and Mrs McDermott Prominent among the articles on exhibition we observed a fine silver trumpet embroidered child's cloak (a superb specimen of needlework), Turkish ottoman, piano cover, gentleman's dressing gown child's velvet outfit, fancy Bible stand, Oriental chair

No, 4, Miss J. Harrington Miss Rachael Manclet, Miss Mary Harrington This table has numerous articles displayed which for beauty and elegance of workmanship, are worthy of mention Among the most prominent we mention the following articles two splendid oil paintings—one of which is the "Lady of the Lake," a wax doll decked gorgeously as a bride mantle clock sofa cushion (raised work), a gold gilt locket and chain

No 5, Miss Nellie Ryan and Miss Mary Meagher We observe the following articles on this table "Bird of Paradise, executed in worsted work, and very handsome silver tea set, velvet suit, one large cricket spread silver cake basket

The candy stand is presided over by Miss Sophia Wolff and sister

Miss Ella Raleigh and Miss Mary Carroll have charge of the postoffice

The refreshment table which by all odds seems to be the most indispensable feature of the fair, is ably presided over by ladies experienced in the culinary art Mrs Goodman, Mrs O Neil and Mrs Rogers have charge of this department, and are prepared to dispense all kinds of eatables on short notice A long table extends on one side of the hall, on which is spread a bountiful supply of viands Chicken, turkey, ice cream, cakes tea, coffee salad, oysters, etc etc

Considering the inclemency of the evening, there was a very fair attendance. This evening a much larger attendance may be anticipated.

Voting will commence this evening for the firemen's trumpet, which is to be presented to the most popular candidate for the office of chief engineer of the P F D A lively contest may be anticipated

Hot or cold lunch will be served up each day during the continuance of the fair, from 12 to 2 o clock.

MUSICAL AND DRAMATIC.

Hereafter the Song Service will be given at Masonic hall.

Mr and Mrs Robert Fulford are now playing with a small company at Eureka, California

In the course of two weeks, New Market theater will be opened for a new dramatic season. The new theatrical company are expected to arrive about the middle of next week.

The Marson Bianchi operatic troupe are expected to arrive here about the middle of next month Portlanders are promised a rich musical treat, which will doubtless be appreciated

Miss Nellie Cummings—not unknown to Portland theatre-goers,—recently appeared in St Louis as "Laura Hawkins," to John T. Raymond's "Col Seller," in Mark Twain's "Gilded Age"

Next Friday evening, the second popular concert of the Portland Amateur Orchestral Society, will be given at Masonic hall The programme will include a number of fine selections from the most popular operas.

An Australian exchange says· "At the Queen's, Baby Benson has been a source of attraction but the Stones H F and Amy are a sad dead weight on the management In private life they are very nice people but their fatality in being frosts, and spoiling good business is now proverbial through Australia At Dunedin the Darrells engagement finishes, and they were succeeded by Mr and Mrs F. M. Bates in a series of melodramatic plays. The Bates pair are doing excellent business at the Queen's Theater.

TEMPERANCE ITEMS

The various lodges I O G T propose to unite and have a Christmas Tree on Saturday evening, Dec 25th

Harmony Encampment, C of R. C, will meet at their hall this evening, to make preparations for the reception of the Grand Lodge

The Good Templar lodges of this city are prospering finely, numerous initiations having recently been made, and the attendance in some instances being quite large

A new departure has recently been taken by Multnomah Lodge No 12, I O G T, in the way of a musical and literary entertainment every Saturday evening. The last programme was very fine, the readings being choice selections well rendered, while the music both vocal and instrumental, was highly appreciated, and reflected credit on those who so kindly volunteered

THE NEW MEMBERSHIPS IN THE LIBRARY ASSOCIATION.

The following is the form of the subscription to the Perpetual Memberships in the Library Association, which has been prepared by the direction of the Directors It seems to contain all that is necessary, and we hope to see the forty memberships taken before the close of the year

WHEREAS, The Directors of the Library Association of Portland have resolved to issue and dispose of not less than forty Perpetual Memberships in said Association, to be assignable and transferable as other personal property according to the by laws of the Association upon the terms and conditions following namely

(1) Said memberships to be disposed of for the sum of $250 in gold coin each payable in cash not less than $50 and the promissory note of the person taking or subscribing for the same, for the remainder, payable to the order of said Association in not more than four equal and annual installments from the date thereof with interest in like coin, at the rate of ten per centum per annum

(2) Any of said memberships and all sums of money paid to the Association on account thereof to be forfeited to the Association upon the failure to pay the promissory note given therefor or any installment thereof or interest arising thereon according to the tenor and object of the same

Now, therefore, We the undersigned subscribers, each for ourself, hereby agree and promise to take and pay for so many of said memberships as are hereunto written opposite our respective names upon the terms and conditions above stated, when and so soon as not less than forty of said memberships shall be so subscribed for, to the approval of the Directors of said Association.

MILITARY NOTES.

Colonel Alfred Sully, 21st Infantry, is appointed to act as inspector on 606 single and 314 double bedsacks, at Vancouver depot, W T , for which Captain George H Weeks, Assistant Quartermaster, depot quartermaster, is accountable, reported by a board of survey convened under circular letter dated headquarters military division of the Pacific, San Francisco, California, August 26, 1875, as not of the authorized length

GREEN TURTLE FROM GUAYMAS.

The S. F. Alta says "The green turtle of the Gulf of California, after many experiments and failures has at last been canned at Guaymas, and the first shipment of two hundred dozen cans put up by J A Robinson & Sons, has arrived in San Francisco, addressed to Rodgers, Meyer & Co The turtles are abundant in the Gulf and are equal in flavor to the best found in the West Indies but they suffer on the voyage if sent to this city alive and canning although tried with much care and expense by Mr Scoofy and others did not succeed The success is now complete—at least in all the cans we have inspected—and the genuine green turtle, in its best condition, is placed within the reach of San Franciscans at moderate prices The supply of turtle in the Gulf of California and along the coast of Mexico at least as far south as Mazatlan is very large Guaymas alone can furnish 200 tons of the meat annually The turtles weigh from 25 to 250 pounds, but the average weight of the meat in each animal is not over 19 pounds the shell, bones and refuse making up a large part of its bulk. The cans so far used weigh when full, 2¼ pounds The meat is boiled in its own abundant juice without the addition of any water, and the can when opened cold is found to be filled with meat encased in jelly The meat is thoroughly cooked and slightly salted and spiced before the can is sealed so that it can be eaten without further preparation The green turtle of the western coast of Mexico is called Cahuma in Spanish Now that the art of canning is understood in Guaymas, we may expect also to receive canned lobster, cuttle fish (Calamares) rock cod, totoaba (a fish like rock cod), and other delicacies caught in the Gulf of California

Messrs Rodgers Meyer & Co., of this city will receive a consignment of this delicacy in a day or two, and our people will have a chance to try them

The steamer Ajax brought another large invoice of goods for BECK & WALDMAN who are determined to keep their customers supplied with the very latest styles as introduced in the San Francisco market. It is really astonishing to see the immense stock carried by this house, when we consider the fact that these are dull times and people are naturally disposed to hold on to coin But the firm have made their purchases at an advantage and can offer their customers rare bargains Call and satisfy yourself and recollect the place, Front and Washington streets

Mannassis is fitting up in style for the holidays and is making special inducements to those making purchases of crockery and glassware. His new stock of fancy goods in this line is particularly fine Additions to the stock will be made this week and as the goods were purchased at exceedingly low prices the patrons of this house may anticipate a corresponding reduction on their purchases Recollect the number 129 First near Morrison

If any man can please his customers that man is KOHN the pioneer clothier, who has one of the best regulated clothing establishments on the northwest coast His stock is always complete and in his new store is arranged in such a manner as to display to best advantage Kohn can offer goods at as low prices as any house in Oregon The last [illegible] New York are [illegible] and Morrison street

DEATH OF THE VICE PRESIDENT.

RESOLUTIONS OF OUR COLORED CITIZENS.

PORTLAND, Nov, 29, 1875

To the EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN:

At a meeting of the colored citizens of this city, commemorative of the death of Hon Henry Wilson, the true and devoted friend of the cause of humanity the following named gentlemen made brief but appropriate remarks on the sad occasion Messrs. Waters Brown Boice Hunter Riley, Johnson Flowers and others.

Thereafter the following preamble and resolutions were submitted and unanimously adopted

WHEREAS It has pleased Divine Providence to remove from the scene of his temporal labors our noble and esteemed friend Hon Henry Wilson Vice President of the United States whose life long efforts in behalf of the oppressed of his country has endeared him to all sympathizers of human liberty and in whose death the colored citizens of America have lost a friend who was ever ready to proffer the hand of aid and the voice of sympathy in behalf of their race Therefore be it

Resolved That we deeply deplore the loss of one who in life used his utmost exertion for the amelioration of those of our brethren whose condition was that of slavery

Resolved That the twenty years of faithful service rendered by him in behalf of the welfare of his country his zeal and patriotism in sustaining the government during its great peril should endear him to all whose hearts and desires are the preservation of American liberty

Resolved, That his memory, his Christian and moral virtues, his many noble traits and his upright life will be ever kept green in our memory As has been said of another, the history of such a man is the best delineation of his character Posterity will affirm of him that his own age was the better for his life and his example the best legacy that he could leave to succeeding generations

Resolved, That in Vice President Henry Wilson we recognize those great and God-like principles which have distinguished good and great men in all ages of the world—liberty justice and equal rights to all irrespective of nationality or race

Resolved That in our great and natural sorrow for the loss of a faithful and beloved friend we find consolation in the belief that "It is well with him for whom we mourn"

Resolved, That the OREGONIAN be requested to publish these resolutions

The Comptroller of the Treasury Department at Washington has issued a circular notifying the public that [illegible] all the [illegible] notes of the following banks: The First National Bank of Chicago, Ill.; [illegible] National Bank of [illegible], Ill.; First National Bank of Paxton, Ill.; First National Bank of [illegible]; First National Bank of [illegible], N. Y. The entire amount of the circulating notes of these banks has been withdrawn from circulation and [illegible] issues will be made. The comptroller is desirous of retiring the whole amount from circulation and all persons holding such notes are urgently requested to deposit the same with the nearest National Bank or to forward them to the office of the comptroller for redemption.

The money market opens for the week with a moderately active [illegible] and while [illegible] is increased by the near approach of the regular collection day and although the capital in the market is deemed ample for all the ordinary purposes of trade, there has been a less voluminous movement in staple merchandise and produce during the month now closing than was anticipated and local improvements have also been temporarily retarded by the bad weather and hence the circulating capital in the hands of the masses has not been increased in the expected ratio during the month. This may necessitate some forbearance in the settlements of monthly bills in a good many instances but should not be taken as an indication of increased closeness in the money market. If the storms and bad weather have hindered the laborer from working he cannot get his pay and therefore cannot settle with the retail man who in turn will be unable to be as prompt as usual with his wholesale creditor.

Grain and Provision Report.

Chicago elevators as per official report, contained on the 20th of November 1,331,590 bushels of wheat, 1,297,800 bushels of corn, 674,462 bushels of oats, 130,5[illegible] bushels of rye and 290,959 bushels of barley, making a grand total of 1,755,414 bushels against [illegible] bushels one week before and [illegible] at the same period last year.

The stock of [illegible] in Chicago on the same day was [illegible] barrels and the stock of pork in New York at the same time was 9,416 barrels.

The stocks in London were 150,000 to 400,000 quarters of wheat, 90,000 to 100,000 quarters of corn and 300,000 to [illegible] sacks flour.

The imports into the United Kingdom the first week in November were 29[illegible],000 to 300,000 quarters of wheat, [illegible] to [illegible] quarters of corn and 80,000 to [illegible] sacks of flour.

Milwaukee elevators were stored with 71[illegible] bushels of wheat, [illegible] bushels of corn, 33,[illegible] bushels of oats, [illegible] bushels of rye and 178,[illegible] bushels of barley.

At the commencement of business on the 8th, New York and Brooklyn warehouses were stored with [illegible] bushels of wheat, 1,470,687 bushels of corn, 705,027 bushels of oats, 51,518 bushels of rye, 192,716 bushels of barley, 252,658 bushels of malt and 2,132 bushels of pease.

The exports of breadstuffs and provisions during the week ending Nov 20th from the leading sea board ports include 2,918 barrels of pork, 4,416,885 pounds of lard, 3,072,529 pounds of bacon, 79,[illegible] barrels of flour, 775,065 bushels of wheat, 537,261 bushels of corn and 15,182 bushels of peas.

The figures below show the amount of grain in sight in the States and Canada on the 23d ultimo: Wheat 11,468,40[illegible] bushels, corn [illegible] bushels, oats 8,140,183 bushels, rye 921,919 bushels, barley 1,471,690 bushels.

The Wheat Market.

But a slight change in this department of trade has occurred since last Saturday but that change is evidently in favor of the holder. Some shippers still quote at $1 60 per cental but as transactions are being made at $1 65 the quotation ought to stand at that. The unusually bad condition of the roads has checked deliveries at the warehouses and with the full force of river steamers now running the accessible portion of the surplus is being much reduced. There is no lack of grain here awaiting shipments and parties having vessels soon to arrive under charter are generally well prepared and all the ships expected in December will find cargoes at hand ready and will have quick dispatch, other circumstances favoring, as well as the readiness of their cargoes. We have no later advices from Liverpool but the San Francisco markets are reported as quite firm at quotations.

In the matter of freights there is nothing new to report, the old [illegible] being still maintained with but few vessels in the San Francisco harbor disengaged. The figure of £3 recently paid is above that of any vessel which has yet loaded here this season and has its consequent depressing influence on the offers for car[illegible].

Shipping Intelligence.

The steamship Ajax will sail for San Francisco with a full freight at 7 A. M. to morrow.

The steamship Oriflamme, from San Francisco will be due at this port on Wednesday evening.

The Br. ship Carmarthen Castle is promised quick dispatch and will get out the last of the week.

The Br ship Baron Aberdare is still at the [illegible] dock, and seems to fill up slowly.

The bark Garibaldi hence for Hongkong via Honolulu, arrived at the latter port Nov. 2d, and sailed for her destination on the 5th.

The schr Oregonian is lying at Flanders wharf awaiting orders.

The Br ship Glencoe at Pacific wharf, will finish discharging ballast and begin to load in a few days.

A vessel named Pacific, nationality and rig not given, sailed from Liverpool Nov 9th for this port via Valparaiso.

EXPORTS.

Per Am steamship Ajax for San Francisco, dispatched by the O. S. N. [illegible] ACRES, IN QUANTITIES TO SUIT PURCHASERS.

230 ACRES DUE SOUTH AND ADJOINING the Railroad Depot at Salem all under cultivation and suitable for grain or vegetables.

640 ACRES four miles southeast of Salem on the railroad, with Mill creek running through it. This is the choicest farming land in Marion county, with fine springs, consisting in part of the old Rector donation claim, on which I raised the present year fifty bushels of wheat and three tons of timothy per acre. The first crop of [illegible] raised on part of this land measured ninety four bushels per acre grain weighed and ground chained by Mr Alfred Stanton of Salem.

2,700 ACRES of prairie and light brush land with timber for farming purposes bounded by the Willamette river for four miles, beautiful lake on the east, boat landings all along the river, commencing four miles north of Salem; all choice grain land—the largest and most suitable body of land to be found in the Willamette valley to be purchased by a colony. To be sold from $[illegible] per acre. This land will all be [illegible] surveyed and can be sold in larger or smaller parcels to suit purchasers. [illegible] persons [illegible] desiring to purchase [illegible] advantages as we [illegible] with [illegible] more favorable terms than they ever expect to realize again.
